

OUR STORIES

Magic Lamp

Once upon a time, there was an old gentleman. He had a parrot called Zośka. Once, Mr. William noticed that Zośka had run out of food. So he went to the store. As he was walking, he noticed a snake. He found a magic bus, when the hood opened he saw a magic lamp. He took the magic lamp and he rubbed it and a genie got out of the lamp and gave William three wishes.

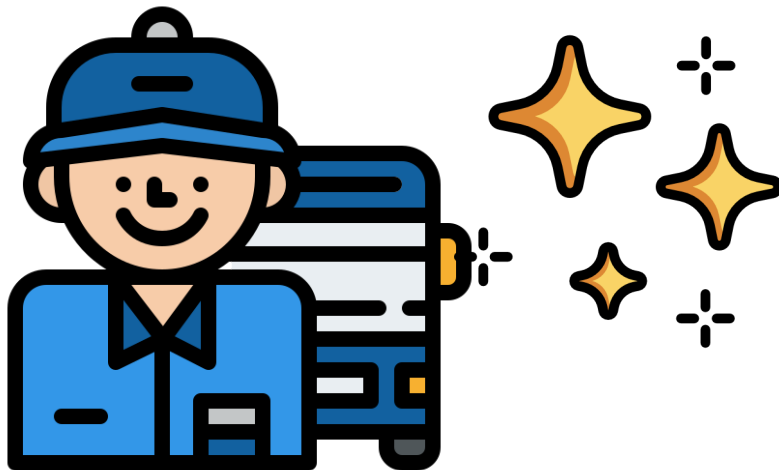

-The first wish was that he always wanted to be rich.

-The second wish was that he would like to be healthy all his life.

-The genie told him that he will always be rich and healthy and then he asked for the third wish.

He said that he had always wished to be a magic bus driver.

The genie gave him the three wishes and William was very happy forever.

William and the magic bus

Once upon a time, there was a grandfather named William, he had a magic bus. There was a parrot in the magic bus, it was William's favorite animal.

One day the parrot started talking. Although she had never spoken before. William got scared and started to run away. He went to a cave and found a magic lamp protected by a magic snake and they had to overcome five tasks.

When they completed these five tasks, they found the magic lamp. There was a genius inside the lamp and he transformed the snake into a dog, and William realized that the dog was a wonderful pet to enjoy and spend time together with. So, the dog became William's favourite animal forever and they lived very happily forever.

William And a Golden Lamp.

Once upon a time a driver named William rode a bus.

It was night. William had been on the bus for a long time and he saw a golden lamp on a tree. William took this lamp and rubbed it and a genie jumped out of the lamp. The genie transformed his bus into a magic one. Passengers got into the bus with a parrot and a snake and they wanted to go to the vet. The bus started to fly and they arrived very fast to the vet's place.

Then, William finally went to the vet. He said that the snake had his favorite toy in its throat. The vet pulled out this toy and the snake woke up. After that, the snake came back to his terrarium wooden house and the snake and William went to sleep. Then a loud sound woke them up, this noise was the bus going through the streets. William was sleeping in his house so he went out running and with his pyjamas, he didn't get to the bus until his bus crashed into a house. Finally, the owners of the house denounced him because his bus destroyed their house 🏠 William learnt that in the future he had to think things better before doing them.

Magic bus

Once upon a time, an elderly Mr. William flew his magic bus as he did every day. He was flying from cloud to cloud, but suddenly he noticed something on one of them. There was something like a lamp ... a magic lamp!!! He flew up to the cloud and rubbed it as in the fairy tale "Aladdin".

Suddenly a parrot flew out of the lamp. The old man was very surprised. The parrot told him that he would fulfill his 3 wishes.

The man immediately asked for a pizza, the parrot, although surprised, complied with his request. 🍕 🍕 🍕

When the old man ate the pizza he was very happy and he started to ask for a mansion, a swimming pool, expensive clothes and other things. When he got the mansion, it started to rumble and there was a very big snake that wanted to attack him.

The gentleman in one second grabbed the snake by the tail and threw it over the horizon. 🐍

In some seconds everything he wanted disappeared and he learned that he couldn't have everything that he wanted in life.

Adventures of William

Once upon a time there lived a driver, William, who drove a magic bus. The bus was blue with red stripes. It had flying wings and could dive under the water.

William had brown eyes and blonde hair. He came to Madrid. He was roaming the streets of Madrid and suddenly he met a guy who was going to sell him a backpack.

The backpack was black with purple stripes. William opened the backpack and found a snake. The snake told him that he had to do three challenges: one challenge was that he had to get a kind of mineral. Second, he had to get a map to arrive at the river. Third, he should wash the mineral to see what could be inside. William had to go to the mine to collect the mineral. William went there looking for a map.

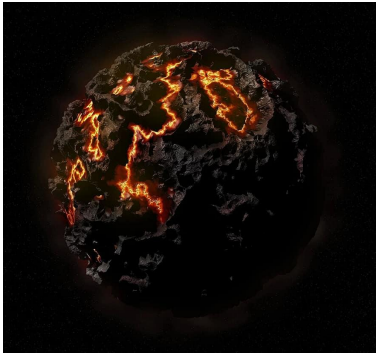

In order to cross the river, he found a shipwreck in which a box was hidden and in that box there was a map.

William washed the mineral in which there was the diamond.

When he got home he found a magic lamp on a shelf. He thought about driving the bus and suddenly a bus driver appeared. William made a wish which was to have a huge parrot. A few years later when the parrot was bigger, it destroyed the planet Earth.

Mysterious bus

Once upon a time there was a bus driver, William, and he liked his job very much. He went to work as usual. He always rode yellow buses, but today he used a blue one. The blue bus was very strange.

You could hear strange sounds inside like voices and laughter of children but the bus was empty. Suddenly he saw a snake in the boot of the magical bus. The snake bit his leg.

Later, the bus driver was very excited, when he saw a magical lamp and it began to absorb everything so the bus driver tried to escape but he couldn't.

As the lamp absorbed him, he saw the same world he lived in, but a little different.

Suddenly, a rabbit came out of the corner of the bus, but it had a human shape. He did not see him in detail because the rabbit started to run away.

The man started to run behind the rabbit, but it was faster. The rabbit was wearing a hat, and a goose came out of the hat and the goose started biting Williams head. Williams was very angry and from the magic lamp appeared an old man, and he caught the goose and the rabbit and took them to his house forever.

The bus driver went home very happy.
